QUESTION 1

1.1. Yes. Both Mr and Mrs Williams are entitled to compensation from the RAF for their personal injuries as these were caused by / arose out of the negligent driving of a motor vehicle and, in Mr William's case, the other driver was solely to blame for the relevant collision.

1.2. Yes, there is a claim for compensation in respect of the son's injuries.

- A foetus in utero is regarded as a "person" for the purposes of S17(1)(a) and (b) of the Road Accident Fund Act. Our courts have held that insofar as the Act offered protection to the mother of the unborn child, such protection would extend to the child itself. [RAF v M obo M (2005) 3 A11 SA 340 (SCA); Mtati v RAF 2005(6) SA 215 (SCA)].

- Either Mr or Mrs Williams may claim, in their representative capacity as parent and natural guardian, on behalf of their son, for his ante-natal injuries.

1.3. Mr Williams

a) a serious long-term impairment or loss of body function;
(½)

b) permanent serious disfigurement;
(½)

c) severe long-term mental or severe long-term behavioural disturbance or disorder; or (½)

(⅔)

d) Loss of a foetus

1.5.1 The relevant claims may be lodged with any of the branch offices of the Road Accident Fund.
(½)

1.5.2 It is the court within whose geographical area of jurisdiction the cause of action arose (i.e. where the collision occurred) that would have the requisite jurisdiction in a particular matter.
(In casu, The High Court of South Africa, KwaZulu-Natal Division, Pietermaritzburg). Alternatively, the court within whose geographical area of jurisdiction the Road Accident Fund has its principal place of business. (The RAF has designated its head office in Menlyn, Pretoria, as its principal place of business for this purpose).
